

STYLE OF ATTITUDES

DESCRIPTION

You tend to think critically in solving social problems around you. The solutions you offer are usually lied somewhere in the middle of traditional and sentimental views. You might consider every views about a social problem, but at the end you will eventually come up with a solution that is based on your own view, especially in relation to the decision between right or wrong. You might ignore the feelings of other people during making decisions based on the truth that you believe personally.

TO DEVELOP

To develop, you had better controlling your behaviour when you have disagreement with other people. You may think freely, but you need to be ethical in expressing your opinions. You may have brilliant ideas, but do not forget to absorb and respect the local wisdom that has developed for a long time in your environment. Discuss with people who are different from you, respect people who are older than you and those who have different opinions from you.

FREE-THINKERS
